PENTECOST.

Great Feast of Holy Ghost Will Be Celebrated All Over World.

Commemorates Descent of Paraclete on Apostles and Disciples.

Quaint Customs Observed During Mass in Ancient Times.

TIME OF PRAYER FOR STRENGTH

Tomorrow the Catholic church the world over will celebrate the feast of Pentecost in commemoration of the day on which the Holy Ghost descended upon the apostles and disciples of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. The Bible tells us that on Pentecost Sunday, about the third hour, 9 o'clock in our time, the Holy Ghost descended miraculously in the form of fiery tongues and rested upon the heads of each of Christ's followers, who were assembled together in fear lest they might be recognized and put to death as friends of the Nazarene. Pentecost is always celebrated ten days after Ascension day, and is one of the solemn feasts of the church. Pentecost was kept as a Christian feast from very early times. From early English times it has also been called Whit Sunday, from the fact that it was a season when many were baptized, and derived its name from the white garments worn by the catechumens. In older times the faithful stood erect while they prayed on Pentecost, and there was no fast between Ascension day and Whit Sunday, not even on the vigil. The vigil of Pentecost was one of the two days on which baptism was conferred, and hence the Missal still gives a form for the blessing of the font on that day.

Pope Benedict XIV. also mentions as customs which prevailed in some places, like the blessing of candles, the blowing of trumpets at the Veni, Sancte Spiritus in the mass on Whit Sunday, the discharge of fire from the roof of the church and the scattering of roses.

The Sundays which follow till Advent are dated from Pentecost Sunday in the Roman calendar, and constitute the third period of the year. On this day the Bishops in the various dioceses are busy administering the sacrament of confirmation to many classes, because that sacrament brings the Holy Ghost to those confirmed and makes them strong and faithful soldiers of Jesus Christ.

It will be remembered that after the betrayal and death of the Saviour the apostles and disciples hid themselves in terror from the angry Jews. Not even after Christ had risen from the dead and appeared before them and talked to them many times were their fears allayed. He told them that they were many things they did not understand, but that after He had returned to his Heavenly Father the Paraclete would come to them, teaching all things that they were to believe; that they were then to go forth teaching all nations in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

From the Bible and from tradition we learn that while they were assembled the Holy Ghost came upon them, and at once, bold in the faith, they went forth to preach. Multitudes assembled to hear these wonderful preachers, and although they were all Nazarenes and men hitherto untutored in foreign languages the vast multitudes heard and understood. There were men and women present from every part of the then civilized world: from Europe, Asia and Africa. The Egyptian, the Roman, the Greek, the Assyrian and the Mesopotamian, each heard these men of divers tongues. Pentecost may well be termed the sunrise of Christianity.

It is customary among pious Catholics to receive holy communion on Pentecost Sunday and to pray the Holy Ghost to continue to enlighten them and to make them more than ever faithful soldiers of Jesus Christ.

IRISH HEROINE.

Miss Kate Shelley, of Iowa, Approaches Valley of Death

From Carroll, Iowa, comes the distressing information that Miss Kate Shelley, the heroine of thirty years ago, lies at the point of death in a hospital in that town. She may be dead before this appears in print. Miss Shelley was born in Ireland in 1855 and came to America with her parents a year later. The family settled at Malgonia, Iowa, near Honey Creek, where little Kate grew to young womanhood.

One night in 1881 there was a loud burst and all the streams were flooded and bridges were washed away. The underpinning of a bridge near Boone, close to the Shelley home, was swept away, while Miss Kate looked upon the flood. It was on July 6. An express train bearing many passengers returning home on July Fourth celebrations was due. Kate Shelley knew the danger and did not hesitate to act. She waded through the water above her waist and crawled over the long and shaky bridge. Then she diverted herself of her red flannel petticoat and used it to flag the train. She had arrived just in time. The train crew and passengers, when they realized their danger, gathered around the young heroine and showered her with congratulations. For many years afterward she and her parents received annual passes from the railroad company in recognition of her bravery. The school children of Des Moines, Iowa, presented her with a silver and gold medal, and in the same town a public drinking fountain was erected in her honor. The Iowa Legislature gave her a gold medal for bravery, and in February, 1902, she was elected bill clerk of the Iowa Senate at a salary of $500 for three months.

JUNE'S BRIDE.

Miss Leona Arthur United in Marriage to Vance Kennedy.

St. Charles Borromeo church was filled Thursday afternoon by friends of Miss Leona Arthur and Vance Kennedy, who were united in matrimony by the Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo. The maids of honor were Misses Maggie Martin and Lucille Burns, while the groom's attendants were Joseph N. Higgins and Henry Fleece. After the ceremony the bride and groom were entertained with a supper at the residence of the groom's parents in Speth's Court, Thirty-sixth and Broadway. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left the city on a brief bridal tour. Upon their return they will begin housekeeping in Parkland.

The bride is a charming young girl of the West End and has had many admirers in social circles. Mr. Kennedy holds a responsible position with the National Tobacco Company. The young couple have the best wishes of many friends for a long and happy married life.

PANIC COMING.

Italian Business Men Are Alarmed Over Outlook.

Cable advices from Rome to the big dailies says Italian business men are becoming greatly alarmed at the prospect of one of the worst financial panics their country has ever seen. The nation has been passing during the past few years through a period of almost insane inflation. At just about the time when the bubble seemed certain to burst there comes the nearly complete failure of the jubilee celebrations. Every one had expected an enormous influx of tourists for the festivities, but the tourists are not coming. Things are in fact not so lively as usual. The prodigious sums spent on preparations for the visitors' entertainment at fancy prices are consequently going to be lost. Another trouble is that the masses of the people have not been allowed to share in the prosperity of the upper classes. The Italian people have reached such a point as to interfere with every kind of business. The storm threatens to break any day, and when it comes there is every sign that it will be terrific.

SUCCEEDED AFTER OPERATION.

The funeral of John B. Lally, who died at Cleveland, Ohio, last Saturday, took place from St. Mary Magdalen church on Tuesday morning and was attended by many of his old friends and associates as well as sorrowing members of his family. The deceased was a son of Patrick Lally, the veteran inspector for the Union Pacific Railway Company. His father, wife and little daughter were with him when he passed away. The deceased was thirty years of age, and while he made his home in Louisville he had spent much of his time on the road in recent years. Three weeks ago he was kicked by a horse and received injuries that made amputation of the leg necessary. His death followed last Saturday. Mr. Lally was an active member of the Knights of Columbus.

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

The Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven, N. Y., on the banks of Lake Champlain, will open on July 3 for a course of ten weeks, closing on September 9. The course includes a varied programme of university extension studies. The ablest scholars and lecturers in the country have been secured. It is also hoped to have a series of lectures from the Right Rev. Abbot Gasquet, of England, who is at the head of the commission that is revising and compiling the Latin Vulgate.

FATHER RAFFO HOME.

There was great joy among the parishioners of St. Charles Borromeo church last Sunday when their pastor, the Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo, made his appearance after an illness of more than a month. Father Raffo is fast regaining his health and strength, and is looking like his old-time self.

DEVOTIONS AT ST. COLUMBA'S.

Forty Hours' prayer will open at St. Columba's church at the 10 o'clock mass tomorrow. The exercises will close on Tuesday. Rev. Father Kallher will be assisted by local clergymen on each of the three days.

MILITARY MASSES

Marked Memorial Services Last Sunday Over American Patriots Who Fell on Fields of Valor in Various Periods of Their Country's Glorious History.

President Taft Attended the Solemn Requiem Services at Washington and More Than Fifty Thousand Did Honor to the Illustrious Dead at Brooklyn Navy-Yard.

This week has been a memorable week in the United States for all Americans. On one day in the week both North and South decorated the graves of the soldiers who had fallen in defense of American liberty. Those who were the gray in the South or the blue in the North during the civil war, and those who fell in the Spanish-American war of 1898, were duly remembered. There were two celebrations that stand foremost in all the country, the one at Washington, the national Capital, in memory of the patriots who fell in the Spanish-American war, and the one at the Brooklyn navy yard, where all the American soldiers from Revolutionary times down were honored. Both were Catholic memorials and attended by military pageants preceding requiem masses.

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons was prevented from attending on account of the stress of other duties, so that the chief duties of the day devolved upon the Right Rev. Monsignor William T. Russell, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Washington. He was assisted by Very Rev. J. R. Meagher, O. P., as deacon, and Rev. Martin Eagan, of Anacostia, as sub-deacon. Rev. W. J. Carroll, of Washington, was master of ceremonies. President Taft, his sister-in-law, Mrs. Laughlin, Gen. Edwards and Major Butt occupied a box close to the improvised sanctuary. Rev. Father James Smyth, who had been assigned to special attendance upon the President, occupied a seat in his box. The mass began shortly after President Taft's arrival. In describing the event the Washington Herald said on Monday:

"Not even the spacious and lofty St. Peter's dome of Rome could have held the throng that gathered near the Monument yesterday to do honor to the soldier dead. In the closest proximity to the embodiment of the country for which these patriots died, and amid the symbols of the Christian faith in which nearly all of them had been reared, when the first military mass ever known in Washington was celebrated in commemoration of the soldiers who died during the Spanish-American war. Under the shadow of the monument erected to the first great President of the United States, in the presence of his illustrious twenty-sixth successor, President Taft, with all the splendor of ritual, glory of liturgy, eloquence and earnestness of its celebrants that the oldest of Christian churches knows so well how to display, there was paid a tribute to those who died to help preserve the civil and religious liberties that citizens of this nation enjoy, which in all of its varied aspects marks a religious event unrivaled in the history of the city."

"From the black cassock to the purity of alb and surplice there ranged every color and color combination, and the crowd that pressed tightly to the restraining ropes was dazzled with the purple garments of the choir boys, the golden chasubles of the celebrant and his assistant, the scarlet of the acolyte, and beyond the military uniforms, the colors of the civilian dress, while throughout it all and above it all waved the restless red, white and blue from the thousands of flags that were borne by the patriotic men, women and children who marched in kaleidoscopic billows over the spacious grounds that were all too small, as with bands playing, thousands of school children marching two by two, Corcoran Cadets, National guards, United States soldiers, United Catholic societies and veterans of the Spanish-American war poured into the Ellipse from all directions." After the post-communion St. Patrick's choir began the national air, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and all joined in the chorus, none more heartily than President Taft.

A street parade preceded the mass, and it is estimated that more than 100,000 took part, including members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Knights of Columbus, Woodmen of the World, school children, members of the United States army and navy, civilians and accompanying bands.

During the mass the Right Rev. Monsignor W. T. Russell delivered a patriotic address. It was in part as follows:

"Greater love than this no man hath, that a man lay down his life for his friends."—John xv:13.

"The spirit and purpose of this occasion is to honor the soldier dead of the republic, to help them by our prayers, and to keep alive in our hearts the spirit of patriotism that breathed forth in the lives and death. All nations have their heroes, and pride and gratitude have prompted them to keep alive the memory of those who wrought for their native land, and most of all of those who fell in defense of her honor, of her very life."

"And surely this, our country, has not lagged behind in that intelligent gratitude and sacred remembrance of her warrior sons who have fought, bled and died that she might live. She is yearly paying out of her coffers millions of money in pensions to safeguard those who did battle in her cause, or to shield from want those who were near and dear to them; and that pension, I take it, is the noble tribute of a nation's gratitude, not the wage of a hireling, nor the price of blood."

"In no nation on earth is the hero of the field or sea more largely honored or met with warmer appreciation than in our own America, and the veteran, soldier or sailor, steps proudly among us knowing that he has a place in the hearts and the regards of his fellow countrymen. But if the care of the living be noble and just, sweet and tender is the remembrance of our hero dead. In a few days the whole nation will gather round the graves of her soldier dead and honor their memory with oratory and poetry, with music, with song, with flowers and with emblems of war's fierce clash, above all with the emblem of the nation's life and the nation's hopes, with the Stars and Stripes. They will decorate the graves of the loved ones, and all are loved, yes, they will decorate thousands of unnamed graves all over the land."

"Now, we can not, my friends, for a moment suppose that this is the expression of mere joy for victory gained, less can we suppose that it is a tribute of honor to mere brute force, or the intelligent guidance of leaders; no, there is a deeper meaning, a more far-reaching spirit back of it all. It is the tribute of a grateful nation to the souls of the men who died for their country. It was an ardent coward, one who fled from the blasts of battle, that sang the bonds of legend, 'Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori.' It is a sweet and befitting thing to die for one's country, but the heart of the world has taken upon the song and sung it again and again.

"We cherish reverently the ashes of our dead, but we cherish more fondly and with deeper reverence the interests of their immortal souls. We turn from their graves, not in hopeless, helpless grief, but to the footstool of God, to the altar, the home of prayer, where soul again meets soul, where love still lives and can work out in a higher and holier manner all the tender ministrations through which it tried to soothe the parting spirit. I hesitate not to say that if by the day shall ever dawn, which may God avert, when infidelity, socialism and anarchy shall be so bold as to rise up against the high authority of our rulers and the law and constitution of our land, in that dark hour you or your successors can call with confidence on the Catholic manhood of this country to show their patriotism by observing the laws in the time of peace; and if war must come, by giving, as their brethren gave before them, that supreme test of patriotism, their own life's blood, for their country's cause."

On the same Sunday morning the Brooklyn navy yard held an assemblage estimated at 50,000 attending the solemn high military mass in honor of the soldiers who had fallen in all the wars in defense of American liberty, civil and religious. Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, of the Knights of Columbus, the Sixty-ninth Regiment and other patriotic societies took part in the street parade and pageant. The altar erected in the center of the field was canopied and filled with flowers. The Rev. Father M. C. Gleason, Naval Chaplain, celebrated the mass, and was assisted by the Rev. Father Eugene McDonald, of the Battleship North Dakota, and the Rev. Father John Nash, of Sacred Heart church, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Father John L. Belford, of the Church of the Nativity, who preached the sermon. The music of the mass was selected from compositions of Verdi, Haydn and Beethoven and was sung by a choir of 150 voices, assisted by the navy band, the Sixty-ninth Regiment, the police and the letter carriers' bands. After the services the Knights of Columbus, 4,000 strong, headed a street parade. Spanish-American veterans, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, United States marines, blue-jackets from the North Dakota and Hancock, the Sixty-ninth Regiment and a detachment of the Second Naval Battalion were among those in line. The Rev. Father John S. Belford, said in his sermon:

"It has been said that the Catholic church is unfriendly to the republic, holding its first allegiance to Rome, and that no Catholic is fit to hold a responsible position in the army or navy. Now, in the past 100 years in this country there is not a single instance of dereliction of duty when the country needed the services of a Catholic. They have never shirked their duty in battling enemies of the country, even when they took the field against their brethren in the faith. We are gathered under the banner of the greatest nation on earth, which has attained its greatness by the devoted service in war and peace of Catholics, non-Catholics and persons of no creed, but united by the bonds of charity and patriotism."

IMPRESSIVE

Y. M. I. Members Decorate Graves of Dead at Memphis.

One of the most impressive sights ever witnessed in Memphis occurred last Sunday, when members of Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I., assembled at Calvary cemetery to observe its first memorial and decoration day over the graves of deceased members. The members of the council and of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary turned out strong, and there were many Catholic and non-Catholic friends present to witness the beautiful services. It was the first time in the history of any Catholic society of Memphis and the first time any Y. M. I. council of the Kentucky Jurisdiction ever held a public memorial and decoration day. Only members of Chickasaw Council and the Young Ladies' Auxiliary took part in the real ceremonies. Owing to the intense heat the ceremonies were cut short. The graves were appropriately decorated, several hymns were sung, the graves were blessed and three brief memorial addresses were delivered. John E. Colbert, President of Chickasaw Council, made a brief talk, in which he dwelt upon the observance of the day. Second Vice President Canale spoke upon the lives of the deceased members. The last address was made by the Rev. Father Dube, acting Chaplain of Chickasaw Council, who uttered a beautiful and an impressive tribute to those who had gone before. Father Dube also blessed the graves and led the prayers.

Chickasaw Council has been very fortunate in recent years, since last year was the first for some time that death has made a call upon its ranks. Those who were called away were William J. Mulcahy and Burt C. Sheehan. The last named was Marshal of the council and was serving his third term in that office.

LAWN FETE

And Strawberry Festival For Sacred Heart Home.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings the friends of the Sisters of Mercy will give a lawn fete and strawberry festival for the benefit of the Sacred Heart Home, 218 East College street. The fete will be held on the home lawn. Euchre games will begin at 3 o'clock each afternoon and supper will be served after the euchre. No admission will be charged to the grounds, but tickets good for either the euchre or supper are being sold. Numerous handsome prizes have been offered.

The Executive Committee which has charge of the affair is as follows: Dr. P. S. Gans, Chairman; George A. Burkley, Secretary; Al S. Smith, Treasurer; Jacob Hubbuch, Manager; Dr. J. H. Buschmeyer, Anton Kast and J. A. Kirchdorfer. The booths and tables will be in charge of the following ladies, each of whom will be assisted by several ladies selected by themselves: Country store, Mrs. J. H. Coleman; novelty booth, Mrs. James P. Whalen; linen booth, Mrs. R. G. Loran; candy booth, fish pond and refreshment booth, Mrs. William Callahan; euchre, Mrs. George Zoll; supper, Miss Lena Hoffman. Raymond Barrett will have charge of the wheel.

TEAM WORK

At Division 4's Meeting Made Favorable Impression Monday.

Division 4, A. O. H., held a big meeting Monday night despite the warm weather, and initiated a class of thirteen candidates. The work of the degree team and choir has been highly complimented by all who witnessed the initiation. The guards under Capt. John Winn were given a good opportunity to show their ability in marches and drills, because the initiation was held in the large hall of the Bertrand building. James Perry presided at the piano and directed the choir.

After the initiation refreshments were served and vocal and instrumental selections were given by Stephen J. McElliot, Thomas Dignan, David J. Reilly and others. The mass lasted more than an hour. President John H. Hennessy and the members are much pleased over the showing made and expect continued progress by Division 4, as the members are still hustling for candidates.

FORD—VEENEMAN.

A pretty June wedding will be that which will unite Miss Marcelle Ford and Harry A. Veeneman, Jr. The ceremony will be solemnized at St. Louis Bertrand church at 8:30 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, June 6. Nuptial mass will follow the marriage rite. The bride-elect is the pretty and cultured daughter of M. J. Ford, the real estate man, and has been much admired in Catholic social circles. The very fortunate groom holds a responsible clerkship in the general offices of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company. Their host of friends wish them many hours of wedded bliss.

DEATH WAS UNEXPECTED.

Adam Gast, one of the best known business men in the West End, died at his home, 1324 West Walnut street, at 6 o'clock on Friday night of last week. He had been ill for a week and suffered from a complication of diseases. The funeral took place from Sacred Heart church on Monday morning. Mr. Gast is survived by two sons, Edwin J. and Clarence A. Gast, and two daughters, Misses Lillian and Leona Gast. He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Jacob and George Gast and Mrs. Anthony Gerst and Misses Lula, Elizabeth and Anna Gast.

FAVOR IRISH LACES.

The demand for real Irish and the best imitations has been quite marked during the last few weeks. This is evidently due to the edict of King George of England, who has declared that every woman who is presented at the coronation should wear some form of Irish lace, Carrickmacross or any of the Irish crochets.

NEW ALBANY JUNE BRIDE.

Miss Matilda Merl, of New Albany, and Joseph C. Mahoney, were united in matrimony at St. Mary's church, New Albany, on Thursday morning. The bride is the charming daughter of Prof. and Mrs. M. Merl, and Mr. Mahoney is a popular resident of Covington.

HOPING

Against Hope the British Peers Are Staving Off Final Dissolution.

Weakness Shown When Lords Failed to Challenge Last Vote.

Irish Members Are Divided in Opinion on Insurance Bill.

PROGRAMME OF GREAT LENGTH

It is all over with the British House of Lords, but they are putting off the day of dissolution as long as possible. They believe in the old adage that while there is life there is hope. With the passage of the second reading of the veto bill on Monday night the Lords shelved that measure until after the coronation, when they will amend it in committee. The bill was passed without division. Lord Morley, in the closing speech, intimated that the Government would accept no amendments, and added that it would not be to the credit of the House of Lords, after accepting the principle of the bill for Lord Lansdowne and his party to raise obstacles at a later stage.

Meanwhile England is proceeding with its constitutional revolution not merely with calmness, but with what seemingly is almost absolute indifference. One Tory Peer, in the course of the week's debate, acknowledged that all their efforts to make the flesh political audiences creep by painting the "terrible results" of destruction of the Peers' power of veto had evoked nothing but derision.

If the Tories had intended to make a real fight on the veto bill they would have thrown it out on the second reading. Instead they allowed it to pass without challenging the Liberal vote. From the present outlook the crisis will come about the middle of July. If the Peers do not accept the bill as it now stands they must accept the responsibility of compelling the Government to fulfill its pledge to appoint 500 Peers to force the veto measure through the upper chamber of Parliament.

There are few who now believe that the House of Lords will take this horn of the dilemma. If they do they will be covered with ridicule, say the Liberals, and will accomplish the very thing they hate and oppose, namely the reconstruction of the House of Lords on a radical basis.

Lloyd-George's insurance bill is now the chief topic of discussion. The complexities of the conditions and the innumerable details of the measure make necessary a longer debate than was anticipated and new difficulties are suggested every day. Ireland also remains dubious about portions of this scheme, as the measure is intended for a rich manufacturing country like England, and the Irish may find considerable changes necessary when the bill is applied to Ireland.

Many members of the Irish party, notably Joseph Devlin, are enthusiastic in support of the bill, but the majority of the members still remain silent and the final outcome probably will be modifications in the Irish version of the measure. It is now probable that Parliament will sit into the middle of August, for the Government adds a new item every week to the already gigantic programme. Secretary Winston Churchill seeks legislation for shorter hours for store employees and for greater safety in the mines. Sidney Buxton, President of the Board of Trade, is pushing through the copyright bill. That measure largely affects the literary and dramatic interests in America, and now seems to be reaching smoother waters. Another addition to the heavy legislative programme is in the bill to relieve the trade unions from the prohibition against subscribing funds for political purposes.

STATE COURT

Of Catholic Order of Foresters Will Assemble Here.

The State Court meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters will be held in Louisville on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 13 and 14. On the first day the members will assemble at high mass at St. Peter's church, Seventeenth and Southgate streets. After the mass a business session will be held. On the second day the members will visit St. Anthony's church, where a solemn requiem mass will be celebrated for deceased members.

The order has about 150,000 members in the United States, and of these about 1,000 reside in Kentucky. There are six courts of the order in Louisville with a membership of 300. The order is represented in the following congregations: St. Peter's, St. Boniface, St. Louis Bertrand, St. Patrick, St. Peter's and Church of the Holy Heart. Dr. Bernard J. Connelley, Chairman of the (Covington)

PROPER MOVE.

A well defined movement is on foot to hold a meeting of editors of Catholic papers at Columbus, Ohio, on August 24. Many of the leading Catholic journals of the United States have signified their intention of attending. The Kentucky Irish American heartily indorses this movement as a means of arriving at uniformity of excellence in Catholic papers.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS.

The special session of Congress is now nearly nine weeks old and so far the Senate has done absolutely nothing. On first one pretext, then another, and on the fabrication of pretexts in which the Senate is proficient, that body has merely marked time. It can not plead as an excuse that there has been nothing before it for consideration, for the proposed amendment to the constitution for the popular election of Senators as well as the campaign publicity bill went to it weeks ago. The whole purpose of delay is to waste time and to bring about such a legislative jam toward the end of the session as will make it easy for the Senate to sidetrack or compromise measures that can not be defeated on an open vote. The House of Representatives is doing its part, but the Senate is decidedly dilatory. Let us hope that the standpaters will not be able to delay very much longer to take a vote on the amendment to the Constitution for the election of Senators by the people.

UNCALLED FOR ABUSE.

Will somebody please name a United States Senator or a Judge in New York that will suit the editor of the Louisville Evening Post? On Monday this editor said of Judge Daniel F. Cohan, who has been appointed to a position on the Supreme Bench in New York:

"His opinions yesterday on any legal question would have had no weight whatever; tomorrow they will have binding force, and according to the new code of political morals and professional ethics his decisions must be accepted and obeyed, but beyond this they must be considered as the result of some kind of inspiration."

The editor of the Post knows better than this. He knows, if he knows anything, that Judge Cohan is one of the ablest lawyers in New York and in the United States. If the editor of the Post had kept up with the day's news he would also have learned that Judge Cohan was never Mr. Murphy's choice for United States Senator. Remember what the Post said about Robert Emmet.

After the malcontents in the Democratic Legislature in New York had brought about the withdrawal or defeat of Mr. Sheehan, a clique of them went to the law offices of Murphy and Cohan. They protested against the nomination of Judge O'Gorman for United States Senator. Before Mr. Murphy could reply Judge Cohan raised a warning hand and said: "Gentlemen, stop that now. Your only objection is that the candidate you oppose is a Catholic. Remember that 60 per cent. of the vote in New York is cast by Catholics and you can't get along without the Catholic vote. You can't elect a dog inspector without us."

The editor of the Post is for McCreary in Kentucky and against Cohan in New York.

DESERVES NO SYMPATHY.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Catholic Union and Times of Buffalo, says: "England is afraid of Germany, hence she seeks an alliance with the United States. As the lawyers say, such a combination is altogether unnecessary and uncalled for. Let 'mother' England fight her own battles. She deserves no sympathy from Uncle Sam."

The Denver Catholic Register of last week said: "A Presbyterian synod in the South is laboring this week with one of its ministers, who is as crazy, and would be as cruel, as John Knox ever was; he sees in the Pope a man of the great Catholic Church, and he is white, to the Chief of the President clear of the country."

and it is to be hoped that enough of sense remains with the Presbyterians to fit the man to the place."

"Scab" printing offices have had a hard time in Louisville in the past several months. Nunemacher, the bitter foe of organized labor, failed and went to a sanitarium; George G. Fetter is hauled before the Ordinance Court for trying to deceive the License Board, misrepresenting his automobile license tag, and now comes the Globe Printing Company, another "rat" concern, being shown up as trying to bribe everybody in sight, the facts coming out in their bankruptcy trial.

The Providence Visitor says: "The Northern Presbyterian General Assembly has recommended the omission of Monday morning recitations to obviate possible Sunday study by students in schools and colleges. The humor of this recommendation is apparent to all but the Presbyterians."

The East Tennessee Telephone Company, an adjunct of the Cumberland Company, has announced a rate of $1 a month for telephone service in Paducah. In Louisville the same company wants a rate of $8 per month. Why this difference?

Of late disgraces to twentieth century civilization the exhibition of speed maniacs at Indianapolis on Decoration day should take first rank. The Indiana Legislature should put a ban on the automobile races.

ON TO JASPER.

Big Excursion by Uniform Rank and Catholic Knights.

The excursion to Jasper, Ind., on Sunday, June 11, promises to be a great event in local Catholic circles.

It is probable that many residents of Jeffersonville and New Albany will take advantage of the trip. The excursion will be given under the auspices of the Central Committee, the Uniform Rank and the Catholic Knights of America. Quite a number of other Catholic societies have signified their intention of accompanying the Knights to Jasper. Jasper is a great Catholic settlement and its people always give the visitors from Louisville a most hospitable reception. This year the Catholic Knights of Jasper and representatives of other Catholic societies will greet the Kentucky pilgrims and make them feel at home.

The Central Committee will meet next Friday night to complete all arrangements for the trip. The excursion will be by way of the Southern railway, leaving about 7:30 in the morning and arriving home the same night before 11 o'clock.

ATHLETIC CLUB NIGHT.

The Columbia Athletic Club, a society of Catholic young men, nearly all of whom are members of St. Vincent de Paul congregation, held a social session and heard instructive talks from a number of old friends on Wednesday night. Ben Mueller is President of the club, and John Paulin is the Secretary. President Mueller welcomed the visitors in a few well chosen words and said that the club was resuming its old custom of hearing instructive addresses from its members and friends. He said the club stood for the moral, physical and mental advancement of the young men.

President Mueller introduced William T. Meehan, who spoke briefly on the mission of the Catholic athletic clubs and advised the members to stick together and warned them against neglecting those who had temporary lapses. He was frequently applauded. William M. Higgins made a brief talk on Catholic societies in general and their benefit to the young man. Capt. John Schaldia followed and talked of societies generally. He dealt with those recognized by the church and those forbidden by her. He urged all to consider carefully what societies they were about to join. Ben Beckman spoke for the carnival that the Columbia Athletic Club proposes to give. Ben Speaker made a humorous address and kept his audience continually laughing. Peter Cook spoke of the situation in France and the causes thereof. William Larkin made a nice address on what men should do and what they should read. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed an evening of social chat and interchange of ideas.

DULL TIME.

DIAMOND JUBILEE.

St. Aloysius Young Men's Society Sixty Years Old.

St. Aloysius' Young Men's Society of St. Boniface church will celebrate its diamond jubilee on Sunday, June 11, and will have a minor celebration on Tuesday, June 13. The society was established at St. Boniface church sixty years ago and has been a power for good in the congregation ever since.

The main celebration will take place on Sunday, June 11. All the members will attend solemn high mass at 7:30 o'clock and will receive holy communion. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a street parade, and at 3 o'clock the members and escorting societies will attend solemn vespers at St. Boniface church. This will be followed by benediction and all joining in the singing of the "Te Deum."

In the evening at 8 o'clock and on Tuesday evening at the same hour the members of the society will present the historical Christian drama, "Rome Under Valerian." St. Aloysius Society is making great progress under the spiritual guidance of Rev. Father P. Linus Braun, O. F. M.

SCHRANZ-SCHMITT.

Wedding bells will peal merrily at St. Patrick's church next Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when Miss Frances Antonette Schranz will become the bride of Prof. Leo A. Schmitt. The ceremony will be performed by the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin, V. L., who will also celebrate the nuptial mass. The attendants will be Louis and Edward Schranz, Oscar Schmitt and Philip Hager. After a short bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt will be at home to their friends at 430 North Twenty-sixth street. The bride-elect is the pretty and captivating daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Schranz. Prof. Schmitt is the organist and director of the choir of St. Patrick's church and has gained fame as a director of amateur musical productions. Both young people have the best wishes of many friends for a long and happy married life.

VISITORS FROM CALIFORNIA.

John H. Graves, wife and little daughters, Betsy and Hadenia, of San Jose, Cal., are visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Graves, of 852 South Fifth street. Mr. Graves is a native of Kentucky and still has a warm place in his heart for the old State. He has many friends in Louisville who are giving him a warm welcome home. Back in the early 80's John H. Graves was one of the brightest and most advanced students at the old Xavier's Institute. After completing his studies he determined to go West and let the country grow up with him. He succeeded and is now one of California's most prosperous wine merchants.

ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL.

Death came to George H. Felhoelter on Saturday afternoon as the result of injuries sustained three weeks previously. Mr. Felhoelter had been employed as foreman at the Kentucky Malt Company's plant, and was engaged in his customary duties when he was caught between a cut of cars and crushed so seriously that it was thought his death was imminent in a few hours. Instead he lingered three weeks. He had been in the employ of the Kentucky Malt Company for fourteen years and was held in high esteem by his employers and fellow workmen. The deceased was thirty-five years old, and is survived by his wife, two children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felhoelter. The funeral took place from St. Peter's church on Tuesday morning.

FEDERATION.

MAMMOTH PICNIC

Hibernians Have Secured Phoenix Hill Park for July Date.

The Jefferson County Board, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held an important meeting at Bertrand Hall on Friday night and made arrangements for a mammoth picnic to be given under the joint auspices of the County Board and the four divisions. County President D. J. Coleman presided, and Thomas Dolan, of Division 1, was elected Vice President. After the matter had been fully discussed it was unanimously decided to give a picnic at Phoenix Hill Park on Thursday, July 20.

The following committees will have charge of the different branches of work:

Press and Advertising—Joseph E. Farrell, John J. Keane, John G. Hession and John J. Barry.

Music—William Murphy, John Helton, D. J. Dougherty and T. J. Langan.

Division 1 will have charge of the bar, Division 2 the dancing hall, Division 3 the gate and Division 4 the refreshments.

Delegates to the County Board are enthusiastic over the outlook and a monster gathering of the Irish clans of Louisville is expected.

FATAL FALL.

The funeral of M. R. Scully, who died at St. Anthony's Hospital on Monday, took place from St. Mary Magdalen church on Wednesday morning. The remains had reposed at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Rosa Volz, 329 East College street, from the time of his death until the funeral. Death was due to an accident. Mr. Scully resided at 1505 Lexington street. He stepped out into a dark hallway and toppled down stairs. His skull was fractured and he sustained other severe injuries that resulted in his death. Mr. Scully was born in Ireland sixty-five years ago, but had lived in Louisville since early manhood. For many years he conducted a shoe store on Market street. He retired fifteen years ago, but was always active in the real estate market. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Anna Volz. The deceased was a devout Catholic and was held in esteem by all who knew him.

LETTER CARRIERS' OUTING.

Falls City Branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers will give a picnic and annual outing at Riverview Park on Thursday, June 8. The officers of the branch are Joseph Ascherman, President; J. H. Jensen, Vice President; John S. Emmons, Corresponding Secretary; William J. Petot, Financial Secretary; E. B. Robuck, Treasurer; Charles M. Haddaway, Sergeant-at-Arms; Dan W. Cuniff, Collector. The Picnic Committee is made up of Louis W. Borntraeger, John S. Bennett, Sam L. Lucas, Charles M. Haddaway, Philip McGovern, John S. Emmons, Charles I. Carthens, Raymond Atkins, Julius Nowacki, Edwin Vanpel, Joseph Ascherman, W. D. Ross, Charles S. Ralby, Henry Miller and William Schwab.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED.

Mackin Council held a well attended meeting Monday night although the temperature was very high. President Samuel L. Robertson occupied the chair. The Choral Club reported that the four performances of "The Campaign" were both artistically and financially successful. The House Committee reported that the shower baths were almost completed. Other extensive improvements are planned, a feature of which will be the wiring and thorough electric lighting system. Two members of the council were reported ill.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

New Albany Hibernians last week filled their protest against the proposed Anglo-American alliance with Senators Shively and Kern and Congressman Cox.

A solemn requiem mass for deceased members of the order was celebrated Sunday in the Carmelite church, New York City.

Division 1 meets next Tuesday night, and President Murphy requests all members to be present. There will be a number of important reports and other business of special interest.

Monday night Division 3 will hold an unusually interesting meeting. Several committees will have reports and the rival membership teams are expected to present a number of applications for membership.

The Hibernians of Minneapolis and St. Paul gave Rev. Father O'Flanagan, the Gaelic League envoy, a hearty welcome when he visited their cities. They contributed a nice sum toward the success of the mission in which the good saggarth is engaged.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meets Wednesday night, and a lively session may be looked for. Several important matters will be discussed. Never before was the outlook brighter for this excellent body of Catholic women and it goes without saying that anything they undertake will be crowned with success.

President Con Ford and Secretary Will Meehan look for a big turnout to the meeting of Division 2 next Wednesday night. Several committees are to be named and work for the summer months will be outlined. This division has been making good since moving to East Broadway, and there is every indication that its numbers will be increased.

COMMENCEMENTS.

Academies and Colleges to Send Out Many Graduates.

The commencement season for Catholic schools, academies and colleges is fast approaching. The dates thus far announced are as follows: Loretto Academy, June 14; Bethlehem Academy, June 13; Sacred Heart Academy, Crescent Hill, June 21; St. Mary's College, June 13; St. Catherine of Sienna Academy, June 13; Presentation Academy, Louisville, June 12.

Many of these institutions are older than Louisville's public school system. This year Loretto holds her ninety-ninth annual commencement, while it will be the eighty-first for Bethlehem, the nineteenth for St. Mary's, the eighty-ninth for St. Catherine's and the seventy-eighth of Presentation Academy. Nazareth Academy, older than all, will hold its commencement on June 14.

The German-American Alliance met Tuesday night and heard a report from the German day committee which is arranging to give a picnic at Fontaine Ferry Park at a date to be named later. The officers of the committee are Carl A. Wellendorf, Chairman; Emil Beyer, Secretary, and John Schneider, Treasurer. The following sub-committees have been named: Press—Charles Neumeier; Finance—Ferdinand Echnauer; Clemens Wiegand and William Schmitt; Decorations—Philip Hollenbach, Emil Beyer and Charles Mann.

MUCH RIVALRY.

The Kent Smiths defeated the Steve Dunigans in a baseball game at Mengel's Park last Sunday by the decisive score of 11 to 0 for the championship of Limerick, this being the second game played by these two teams, the Dunigans winning the first. The deciding game will be played at Eclipse Park on Sunday, June 10. John Dwan is captain of the Smith aggregation, while Jim Sexton, the brave fire laddie, leads the Dunigans.

REEDY—RUSSELL.

A large gathering of relatives and friends attended the nuptial mass at St. Francis of Rome church Thursday morning, when the pastor, Rev. Thomas White, united in the holy bonds of marriage Miss Nora M. Reedy and Joseph F. Russell. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Michael J. Reedy and is popular in Clifton society circles. Mr. Russell is well known in business circles throughout the city. The best wishes of a host of friends follow the worthy couple into their new life.

FERRY CROWDS HAPPY.

Fontaine Ferry Park was this week the mecca where thousands upon thousands sought relief from the heat of the city. They took advantage of all the amusement devices and crowded every bench in the park. Strignano and his band sprang into popular favor and the programmes arranged have made a popular hit with music lovers. The vaudeville theater will present an entire change of bill for next week, all the acts being of the highest order and introducing a number of stars of national reputation. Fontaine Ferry presents delightful features for both old and young.

ELIZABETHTOWN.

Elizabethtown was in gloom last Saturday when announcement was made of the death of J. R. Neighbors, one of its old and most highly respected citizens, who two weeks before suffered a stroke of paralysis. The deceased is survived by his widow and four children, Misses Mary Warren and Frances Neighbors and Robert and Nevin Neighbors.

The funeral services were held Monday morning at St. James church and were largely attended, a number of relatives and friends from Louisville being present.

WINCHESTER WEDDING.

Miss Marysle Bernice Hillenmeyer and Edward T. Houlihan, Jr., were united in marriage at Winchester on Thursday morning by the Rev. Father Herbert Hillenmeyer, brother of the bride. After a brief bridal tour Mr. and Mrs. Houlihan will make their home at Lexington, where the groom is engaged in business. The bride is one of Winchester's most popular girls.

RECENT DEATHS.

The sympathy of many friends is extended to Detective Patrick White and his estimable wife over the death of their son, James M. White, who passed away at the family residence, 1926 West Jefferson street, on Tuesday morning. The deceased was one of the clerks in the Auditor's office of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company. His death was due to typhoid pneumonia. He was only twenty-three years old and was rising rapidly in railroad circles. Besides his parents he is survived by one sister, Miss Mary, and three brothers, Joseph, Edward and John White. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church on Thursday morning.

Miss Leona Hilger, a popular young lady of the West End, died at St. Joseph's Infirmary, on Tuesday afternoon. Death followed an attack of peritonitis. She was the daughter of Charles Hilger, manager of the barber shop in the Paul Jones Building. Besides her parents she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Olivia Kinney, of Kansas City; Mrs. Lorraine C. Chamberlaine, of Detroit, and Miss Virginia Hilger, and two brothers, Robert and Harry Hilger. Many sorrowing friends attended her funeral, which took place from St. Charles Borromeo church on Thursday morning.

Thomas Leone, a retired fruit dealer, died at his home, 125 West Jefferson street, at 5:30 o'clock on Friday evening of last week. He had been in ill health several weeks and death was not unexpected. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Rev. Father Damian Leone, of Milwaukee; Councilman Mike Leone, Meme Leone and Mrs. Laura Medici and Miss Catherine Leone. The funeral took place from St. Michael's church on Sunday afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Susan McCann took place from the Sacred Heart church on Tuesday morning. Her death occurred at her home, 1707 West Broadway, last Saturday afternoon. She is survived by her husband, Charles McCann, and a son and daughter. The deceased was well and favorably known in the West End.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Forsting, widow of the late Herman Forsting, was largely attended Monday morning at St. Anthony's church. Mrs. Forsting was seventy-three years old, and was held in high esteem in German Catholic circles.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

A class of forty candidates received the second and third degrees at Madison, Ind., on Sunday.

New Albany Council gave a most delightful musical Wednesday night for members and their families.

Kentucky was well represented at the initiation at Ironton, Ohio, last Sunday, quite a delegation attending from Ashland.

Large classes were initiated last Sunday into the councils at Anderson, Richmond and Seymour, Ind.

North Dakota has four councils, with good prospects for several more.

Sunday was another great day for Louisville Council. Sixty-three candidates received the degrees, the third being directed by Hon. La Vega Clements, of Owensboro. Following the initiatory exercises the candidates and members partook of an elegant banquet.

Sixty candidates from Covington and Newport became members at an initiation in the former city last Sunday. Judge John Read presided at the banquet and addresses were made by Hon. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville; John Huber, of Newport, and Judge Frank Tracy, of Covington.

JIMMY BURKE

And Other Old Favorites at Eclipse Park Tomorrow.

Louisville will close at Toledo this afternoon and open with Jimmy Burke's Hoosiers here tomorrow afternoon for a three game series, which will be the last home games until June 21, the Colonels making a road tour of the four Western cities. The showing made by the team this past week has been a big disappointment to the fans, but no other cause can be assigned for the failure to win games than just plain hard luck. The pitchers have shown a big improvement in their work, the team is hitting, good and fielding splendid and there is no one who can suggest a change in the present line-up, which man for man will compare with any in the Association. With an even break of luck at Columbus, Louisville would have won a majority of the games, as they out-batted and out-fielded Columbus during the series and lost a couple of runs by sheer hard luck. A big crowd will be on hand to greet Jimmy Burke and the old Louisville favorites, Woodruff and Hallman, this being their first appearance this season, and by the way Indianapolis has made a big spurt during the past two weeks and are contenders just now.

PRIESTS' MEMORIAL.

The material for the monument to be erected to the memory of the Rev. Father John Kelly has arrived in New Albany. The monument will be erected at Holy Trinity cemetery on the Green Valley road, near New Albany, next fall. The shaft will be surmounted by a cross and the whole will be nearly twenty feet high. The date of Father Kelly's birth and death will be inscribed on the stone. Father Kelly was pastor of Holy Trinity church for twenty-five years prior to his death.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL'S.

Tomorrow morning the third group of children, consisting of seventy-six eight, nine and ten year old boys and girls, will receive their first holy communion at St. Vincent de Paul's church during the low mass at 8 o'clock. At 2:30 in the afternoon these same children will be enrolled in the Scapular Confraternity, the beautiful ceremony to close with the Rosary procession and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

OWENSBORO Y. M. I.

The Y. M. I. degree team of the Kentucky jurisdiction, headed by Supreme First Vice President Robert T. Burke, will go to Owensboro tomorrow morning and in the afternoon will initiate a large class for Santo Council. It will be quite an event in Owensboro Catholic circles. A banquet will follow the initiation. Mr. Burke expects to go to Memphis in the near future to initiate a class for Chickasaw Council.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Michael J. Filburn, an employee of the Golden Rule store, was struck by an automobile last Sunday night while crossing Market street, between Third and Fourth. After his injuries had been temporarily dressed he was removed to his home, 2404 West Jefferson street, where he is resting as comfortably as could be expected.

AVENUE THEATER.

Tommy Donnelly, the black-faced comedian and minstrel, will head the vaudeville bill at the Avenue Theater next week. All of the acts will be of superior excellence. The program will be of the usual high order. Hot weather has no terrors for patrons of the Avenue, because that play house is kept cool and comfortable by electric fans.

DELEGATES TO ROCHESTER.

Last Saturday night there was a rousing meeting of Falls City Branch No. 14 of the National Association of Letter Carriers, when Charles M. Haddaway, Edwin Vanpellet, John S. Eummon, Charles Carriers and Charles Vattiner were selected to represent Louisville at the letter carriers' national convention. The convention will meet in Rochester on September 4 and will be in session six days.

FUNNY STORY IN EVENING POST

As the time for the Democratic State primary and Republican convention approaches the politicians of all parties are getting busier and busier. The gubernatorial candidates and the candidates for second honors are out stumping the State. Each man is setting forth his claims and there should be no room for ignorance of what any of the candidates declares he stands for. From now on the campaign will be hotter than ever, and while some of the followers of certain candidates are bitter in their criticisms of all who differ from them, the candidates themselves are not dealing in mud-slinging or vituperation.

Judge William Addams and his friends claim that he is gaining strength every day, and those in charge of his headquarters at the Old Inn are well satisfied with the outlook. They claim that some surprises are in store and that when the ballots are counted at the close of the primary that ex-Senator McCreary will have been defeated. During the present week Judge Edward C. O'Rear and Hon. E. T. Franks, two of the Republican gubernatorial candidates, opened headquarters in Louisville. While they will continue to stump the State both expect to spend as much time as is possible in Louisville. Lieut. Gov. Cox has many friends in Louisville and they are making a vigorous campaign in his interest. While Gov. Willson is not taking any active interest in the contest, it is generally understood that Mr. Cox is closer to him than either of the other aspirants.

One race that is of paramount interest in this city is that in which three Louisville men are starters, W. M. Smith, James P. Edwards and Hon. E. J. McDermott. Each has a strong following in his race for Lieutenant Governor. All have clear political records and any one of the three would make a fit presiding officer for the State Senate. As was stated last week, Mr. Smith has the backing of Mayor Head and the city administration, and that is a great advantage to start with, even if he were without his strong following in the First, Second and Third districts. Mr. McDermott and Mr. Edwards have been out stumping the State, and both have been courteously received wherever they have spoken. The greatest good feeling prevails among these three candidates.

The Louisville Herald on Wednesday published a card from Daniel E. O'Sullivan, giving his views on the Democratic situation in the State and county. Now what value does any Democrat place on Mr. O'Sullivan's views, and in the second place, who is giving him the impression that any one cares what his views are? His letter has a tinge of superciliousness. Dan's excuse is that Argus, the political dopest for the Herald, recently inquired as to his whereabouts. Argus certainly owes the public an apology for that infliction. To sum up Mr. O'Sullivan's troubles, he frets because the local Democrats are not tearing their shirts over ex-Senator McCreary's campaign, and he attacks ex-Senator Jo Blackburn because, as he says, Blackburn had his feet under the Democratic table for forty years, while Dan's feet were under the table only ten years. Hence the kick.

That story in the Louisville Evening Post on Wednesday to the effect that the McCreary, Beckham, Haley combination was going to dethrone Frank McGrath, Chairman of the local Democratic committee, and unsent the other committeemen is really funny. If this were done Mr. Beckham would have to transplant a lot of his followers from out in the State, since he has not backing enough in Louisville to organize one precinct.

The Democrats of Louisville from top to bottom are sore on Beckham for his appointment of R. W. Bingham as Mayor of this city, thereby turning the town over to the Republicans. By the way, what does Mr. Beckham think of his protegee, Judge Bingham, who is now one of the leaders of the Grand Old Party in Louisville? If Beckham's and Haley's Democratic friends are in the same rattle out in the State that they are in Louisville the Kentucky Irish American certainly sympathizes with any candidate who is foolish enough to trust his chances to them.

During the past week former Magistrate Adam Spahn announced his candidacy for the Legislature from the Forty-sixth district, composed of the Second and Third wards. So far he has no opposition and will in all probability land the Democratic nomination. Former Policeman Tom Dunn has announced his candidacy for Constable in the Fifth Magisterial district. Mr. Dunn is very popular and the man who beats him will have to hustle.

Many candidates from the different Legislative districts are expected to announce in the next several days, among them being William A. Perry, the well known attorney, who wants to represent the Forty-ninth Legislative district, composed of the Eighth and Ninth wards, which is now represented by a Republican, but as this district is now Democratic Mr. Perry will probably be the next representative, as he will poll

FINE SHOW.

Large crowds will attend the performances at the Hopkins' Theater next week. Every number on the bill will be classy and will please both those who sit below and aloft in the popular Market-street playhouse. With amusements and pictures of the headline order and the house fanned with cool electric breezes, the Hopkins continues a favorite place for an hour of rest and delightful entertainment.

LAST WEEK OF RACES.

The feature events at Churchill Downs today will be the Frank Fehr stakes for three-year-olds and upward and the Gentlemen's cup race. The latter is getting to be a more important feature each succeeding year. There are many young society men in and around Louisville who have shown that they are crack riders. For several years past the Gentlemen's cup has been won by Louisville riders. The present meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club will close next Thursday after a very successful season.

The stake events will be the Churchill Downs handicap on Tuesday and the Kentucky oaks on Thursday.

ELEVATED.

Auxiliary Bishop of Philadelphia Succeeds Late Archbishop Ryan.

Right Rdy. Edmund Prendergast Is Worthy Every Honor.

Clergy and Laity of the Quaker City Rejoiced Over the News.

TALLEST OF AMERICAN BISHOPS

The Right Rev. Edmund Francis Prendergast has been appointed Archbishop of Philadelphia to succeed the Most Rev. Patrick John Ryan, who died on February 11 of the present year. The appointment was announced at the Vatican last Saturday. While the appointment meets the approval of Philadelphia Catholics, many were surprised because they believed that Monsignor Kennedy, Rector of the American College in Rome, would succeed to the archbishopric.

When the cable message reached Philadelphia Bishop Prendergast was on the altar of the Cathedral, officiating at the ordination of twenty-two candidates for the priesthood. Of course he did not learn of his new honors until he had concluded the ordination ceremonies. Even then he declined to discuss the matter at all until he had been officially apprised of his elevation.

Edmund Francis Prendergast was born in Clonmel, County Tipperary, Ireland, on May 3, 1843, and is consequently sixty-eight years old. In 1859 he came to the United States and six years later, in the very same Cathedral where he received the news of his elevation to the archbishopric, he was ordained a priest. He served in various charges in Eastern Pennsylvania until 1874, when he was made Rector of St. Malachy's church in Philadelphia, of which he still nominally the rector. Fourteen years ago he was made Auxiliary Bishop of Philadelphia, and three years later the venerable Archbishop Ryan appointed him administrator of the archdiocese, to take effect at the death of the Archbishop. With his consecration as Archbishop Monsignor Prendergast will become Metropolitan of Pennsylvania. As such he will be superior to the suffragan Bishops of Pittsburgh, Scranton, Altoona, Erie and Harrisburg.

The news of the appointment had been eagerly awaited since last February. According to the rule of the church several names were submitted to Rome from which to pick a successor to the late Archbishop. Many believed that the names of Bishop Kennedy, of the American College; Bishop Prendergast, of Philadelphia, and Bishop Dougherty, of the Philippines, had been forwarded by the rectors of the archdiocese. It was also reported that the names of Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, and Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, had been submitted.

Both the clergy and laity of Philadelphia regard Bishop Prendergast's appointment as an act of reverence in Rome for the late Archbishop Ryan, because it was generally known among the friends of the dead Metropolitan that he wanted Bishop Prendergast to succeed him.

The new Archbishop is probably the tallest member of the hierarchy in the United States. He is a man of colossal build, with an amiable, fatherly face, from which large, clear gray eyes beam brightly. His extraordinary height appears greater when he dons the tall episcopal mitre or Bishop's hat.

The diocese of Philadelphia was established in 1808, and was erected an archdiocese on February 12, 1875. The diocese, independent of its suffragan sees, comprises an area of 5,043 square miles. It has a Catholic population of 525,000.

Until further official notice no action will be taken, but when the date is set for the conferring of the pallium the Catholics of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania will arrange for one of the most imposing and impressive religious celebrations ever witnessed in any of the Eastern States, one that will be attended by practically the entire hierarchy of this country.

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Myrtle Rumbold and Francis Wade Breen, popular young people of New Albany, will be united in matrimony at St. Mary's church in that city at 3 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Breen will begin house-keeping on State street. The attendants at the wedding will be Miss Elsie Breen and Leo Monnies, who have a little love affair of their own and who will be married at the Church of St. Mary of the Knobs, near New Albany, at 9 o'clock on the morning of June 20. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Monnies will be tendered a breakfast at the home of John Breen at Mooresville, Ind. After a wedding trip to New Orleans the young couple will begin house-keeping on State street, New Albany.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Princess and Orpheum picture houses will offer next week an interesting line of moving pictures, which will include dramatic and comic scenes that promise to be instructive as well as amusing. These pictures are from the latest and best films made, and are so realistic that the audiences feel they are witnessing the scenes from real life. Both houses are kept cool and comfortable.

SUDDEN CALL.

Jacob Gast Succumbs to Stroke Caused by the Great Heat.

When it was announced on Tuesday that Jacob Gast was dead few in the community could realize it. Only the day before he was seen on the streets and was apparently enjoying good health, despite that he was complaining of the weather. Death followed a sudden stroke of apoplexy superinduced by heat.

Mr. Gast was born in Louisville fifty-three years ago and always resided in this city. He received his education at St. Mary's parochial school and at the old St. Xavier's Institute. After leaving school he engaged in the transfer business, the saloon business and of late years was a member of the brokerage firm of L. Simons & Company, and was also the proprietor of a laundry. Affable, charitable and with ever a good word for his fellow man, none could dislike Jake Gast. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Catherine Deuser, and the following children: Courtenay, Charles and Robert Gast, Mrs. C. W. Lusky and Misses Adele and Elsa Gast. On May 25 his brother, Adelm Gast, died after a brief illness. The funeral was held from St. Louis Bertrand church on Thursday morning. The edifice was thronged with sorrowing friends of the family.

NICE TRIBUTE

Paid Catholic Knights by Pastor of St. John's Church.

Members of Branch 25, C. K. of A., had their annual communion last Sunday morning at St. John's church. The Rev. Father Schumann, who is spiritual director of the branch, complimented the members on their showing and also praised the order for its good work. Father Schumann told that in the office for the day read by clergymen, the Saviour promised to send to the apostles and disciples the parable, saying, "I would not leave you orphans." Then the speaker told how the Catholic Knights of America were caring for the orphans and how they had expended millions of dollars in carrying on this work of true Christian charity. Father Schumann also called attention to the fact that this was a season of marriages, and he suggested that it would not be a bad idea for each bridegroom to present his bride with a policy in the Catholic Knights of America.

LARGE CLASS

To Be Initiated by Catholic Knights and Ladies Tomorrow.

The Louisville branches of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America will have a joint initiation of candidates at Falls City Hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The officers of the various branches are requested to have their candidates at the hall not later than 1:30 o'clock. There are about fifty candidates to be initiated. Stephen J. McElliott will preside. Supreme President, Francis P. Leonard will come from St. Louis with a degree team to conduct the initiation. Miss Julia O'Keefe, the Supreme Secretary, is also expected. Suitable entertainment will be afforded the visitors by the local Knights and Ladies.

FONTAINE FERRY OFFERINGS.

Fontaine Ferry patrons next week are promised one of the best vaudeville bills ever presented here or anywhere. The bill will be headed by William Flemen and his players in a comedy dramatic classic called "Back to Boston." Then will come Taylor, Kratzman and White, a great trio of rag-time piano players and singers. Elsie Faye, Miller and Weston will offer a lot of dainty singing and dancing bits; the famous Four Vanis will present a sensational tight-wire novelty, and Van Hoven and company will put on a funny burlesque on magic and mystery. Out in the garden, Felix Sirisano and his splendid band will be assisted in presenting the daily free concerts by the Misses DeLaure, a well known singing duo.

MACKIN'S MEETING.

Mackin Council's meeting was fairly attended Monday night, though the business to be transacted was only of a routine character. Attorney Joseph Hancock occupied President Robertson's chair, dispatching the order of business and adjourning at an early hour. All members were pleased when announcement was made that Arthur Senn, James Muller and Michael Carroll were improving. A number of committees reported that much interest was being taken in the Niagara Falls excursion and the sunset trip up the river next month.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

It was with much pleasure that patrons of the German Insurance Bank heard that J. Clement Robertson had been made cashier. Mr. Robertson is a faithful servant of the bank and its patrons. He entered the service of the bank thirty-eight years ago as messenger, and for thirty-one years has served as general bookkeeper. Frank Merhoff will succeed Mr. Robertson as general bookkeeper. Joseph Wrocklage becomes his assistant and Mallory Fible will be the individual bookkeeper.

The Kentucky Irish American is advised that the Rev. Robert McDonald, pastor of St. Mary's church, Calvary, Ky., has gone to Boston to spend a vacation of four weeks.

COLONELS' HARD TRIP.

Del Howard's hustling Colonels will tackle Minneapolis again this afternoon and go over to St. Paul tomorrow to begin a three-game series, from there to Milwaukee for three games, and thence to Kansas City for the same number, altogether playing twelve games on this Western trip, and if they get an even break the fans will be more than satisfied, as all four Western teams are going at a fast clip just now. The decisive victories over Indianapolis were very pleasing to the Colonels' followers, for if there is any team they want Louisville to surely finish ahead of it is the much hated Hoosiers, and there will be excitement galore on the home grounds of both teams for the rest of the season, as the Indianapolis fans feel about the same way toward Louisville. Each team still has nine games with the other during the rest of the season. It is hoped that Grimsaw will be able to join the team shortly, as his hitting and fielding puts him at top of the association first basemen just now, and by shifting Manager Howard to second and Stansbury to left field keeps both 300 hitters in the game.

CLOSING

Exercises at Schools and Colleges Are in Near Future.

St. Mary's College will hold its nineteenth annual commencement in the college hall at St. Mary's, Marion county, at 9 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, June 13. The commencement exercises at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Crescent Hill, will take place on the afternoon of June 21. The young ladies who will receive graduating honors are:

Academic course—Misses Rufina Maria Rago, Hot Springs, Ark.; Florence M. Schilling, Lincoln, Ill.; Eulalia C. Cullen, Cincinnati; Mary C. Nevitt, Basin Springs, Ky.; Ethel T. Deiss, Shelbyville, and Miss Bagnall I. Steiner, Chicago.
Conservatory—Miss Anna Lee Morgan, Louisville.
Art course—Miss Marie C. Leininger, Sutton, Neb.
Presentation Academy will hold its exercises at 10 o'clock next Monday morning. The graduates will be Margaret Driscoll, Virginia Meagher, Marie Ann Thieman, Edna Marie Tierney and Dorothy B. Morat.

UNION PICNIC

Given Big Boom at Tuesday's Meeting of Old Division.

President William Murphy presided at a well attended meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., on Tuesday evening. Frank Kinney and John Holden were reported ill. Thomas Tarpey announced that the degree team would be able to report ready for work at the next meeting. Thomas Dolan was reported elected Vice President of the County Board. He was congratulated and forced to make a speech.

James Doran, who was recently appointed policeman, resigned from the Visiting Committee, and Anthony Tompkins was appointed in his stead. Mr. Doran's retirement from the committee is regretted because he made a faithful and efficient member. The picnic under the joint auspices of the four divisions and the County Board was boomed in great shape, and John M. Mulloy, Martin Cusick, Thomas Tarpey, Thomas Keenan, Sr., and James Kilkelly were appointed to attend the meeting of the County Board on next Friday to assist in making necessary arrangements.

WHO'S WRONG?

Steve Smith Says the City Is Short on School Children.

Steve Smith, of the Caron Directory Company, than whom there is no more careful calculator, declares that the attendance at public schools in Louisville has fallen off 6,500 within a twelve-month. The questions of the imported Chief Truant Officer have a lot to do with driving children away from the schools. "How much salary does the father make a week; how much rent do the parents pay?" and other illusive and utterly irrelevant questions are required to be asked by the truant officers.

Dr. Bloom argues that there never were any more children in Louisville and that the previous school census was padded by political pets. It would not be a bad idea to get these political pets busy again if the Doc wants the new board to spend the money.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

As a refuge from the heat the spacious and fan swept Hopkins' Theater is proving one of the most enticing resorts in the city for amusement seekers. Next week Manager Simon will present some of the most pretentious features in vaudeville, six in number and the usual moving pictures. Despite the vacation reduction in prices the Hopkins is providing the same high class character of bills that brought the house into such public favor.

NEWPORT WEDDING.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception at Newport was the scene of a brilliant wedding Wednesday morning, when at a nuptial mass John E. Brooke led to the altar Miss Nell Barry. The bride is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barry, and the groom is a popular young man of that city. The ceremony was witnessed by many friends of the happy couple, who were showered with congratulations on their union.

NEW JOURNALISTIC VENTURE.

The Osgood Weekly Journal, published at Osgood, Ind., has passed into the hands of Richard J. Beer, who will be its editor and publisher. Mr. Beer is an old time printer and a former resident of Ripley county, Ind., hence his interest in the old town. His paper is strictly all right. For a number of years Mr. Beer was employed by the Courier-Journal, and held a good position in the Louisville Post-office until his return to Hoosierdom.

BISHOP KENNEDY'S WORK.

A cable message from Rome says it is an open secret with the Papal entourage that the Right Rev. Thomas F. Kennedy was not appointed to succeed the late Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, because the Pope, highly appreciating the work of Monsignor Kennedy as head of the American College in Rome, insisted that he remain there. The Pope, it is said, believes that it would be next to impossible to replace Monsignor Kennedy, as his work has been most extraordinary and fruitful.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The Hibernians of Waltham, Mass., expect to have their own home.

During the month of May two new divisions were instituted in Massachusetts.

New divisions are in process of organization at LaCrosse and Antigo, Wis.

Twenty-five new members were received into the division at Linton, Ind., last month.

Ex-State President Butler has kept his word and is still an earnest worker for the order.

Division 1 now sees the approach of its degree teams, which promises to equal any in the Falls cities.

Boston Hibernians will observe the anniversary of the birth of Wolf Tone with fitting exercises on June 20.

Over $3,000 was pledged at the recent open meeting of the Boston Highlands Hibernian Building Association.

Thomas Dolan, of Division 1, will make a splendid County Vice President, and it is predicted he will go still higher.

Division 4 will meet Monday night and then President Hennessy will name several sub-committees for the Phoenix Hill celebration.

Major McCrystal, former National Director, has been elected Commander of the Spanish War Veterans
Camp just organized in New York City.

The County Board will meet in session Friday night, when further arrangements will be perfected for the union celebration at Phoenix Hill.

Connecticut State officers are making effort to make a high water mark membership this year, and have already organized several new divisions and auxiliaries.

The county degree team and choir of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Indianapolis conducted a splendid initiation at Logansport last Sunday for the recently organized auxiliary.

A new division was installed and sixty candidates initiated last Sunday at Madison, Wis. National President Reagan and prominent members from all parts of Wisconsin were present.

Celebrating the diamond jubilee of the order, the Hibernians of Olean, N. Y., received holy communion in a body at St. John's church. Father Gardiner paid them an eloquent tribute.

Following a spiritual retreat at the St. Paul Cathedral about 2,000 members of the Ancient Order and Ladies' Auxiliary received holy communion at the early masses last Sunday week. Father Larpenier, the noted Dominican, conducted the retreat and was highly gratified with its results.

A cablegram to the American dailies from Belfast, Ireland, says:
"In all the finery of Queen Mary,
when she goes to Westminster Abbey to be crowned, there will be no more beautiful detail than the needlepoint lace of her magnificent train. It will be a present from the women of Belfast and Ulster and will be of Irish manufacture and worthy of the reputation of the Isle for dainty workmanship. The design of fuchsia and wild roses on the flounce was worked at the lace school of a convent at Youghal.

There also was made the presentation lace shawl given to Queen Alexandra by the women of England as a wedding gift, and the shawl given to Queen Victoria on her diamond jubilee. Many other royal women of Europe, including the Czarina of Russia, count among their precious possessions needlepoint lace made by the Youghal laceworkers.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL'S.
Yesterday morning the fourth and last group, consisting of sixty-nine seven, eight and nine year old boys and girls, received their first holy communion at St. Vincent de Paul church during a low mass at 7:45 o'clock. Immediately after mass the same children were enrolled in the Scapular Fraternity. The total number of first communicants of St.
Vincent de Paul parish for this year is 295.

VISITED HIS FRIENDS.
James Donahue was a welcome visitor to the Louisville friends and old home this week. He is now located in Columbus, Ohio, and is superintending the carpenter work on the new Federal building. The contract for this work was awarded the Alfred Struck Company, of this city, and is a big one.

WELCOME VISITOR.
John T. Featherstone, Superintendent of Construction for the Cumberland Telegraph and Telephone Company, with headquarters at New Orleans, is in Louisville to spend several weeks with his children and other relatives. He has the same old cheery smile and a fund of new stories. He will always be welcome in Louisville.

POPULATION DECREASES.
The recent census shows that the population of Ireland is 4,381,951. This is a decrease of 76,824 since the previous census, which was taken in 1901.

ABLE REPRESENTATIVE.
Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin, will represent the National University of Ireland at the Congress of the Universities of the British Empire to be held in London this summer.

PICNIC FOR ST. PAUL'S.

A picnic for the benefit of St.
Paul's church, Jackson and Kentucky streets, will be given at Phoenix Hill Park on July 4. The Rev. Father Thomas A. York and his parishioners are planning for a big event. In the evening there will be a big banquet in honor of Mayor Head and his cabinet and members of the General Council.

HANDSOME GIFTS.

Dr. Bernard J. Lammers, who designed and erected drinking fountains in this city, has dedicated five of his fountains to the city. The Board of Public Works have accepted the fountains with thanks. The fountains are so arranged that humans, horses, cattle and dogs may drink from separate orifices.

STRONG ORDER.

The last report issued by Supreme Secretary Matre is very gratifying to the Catholic Knights of America.
During the last month 113 new polices were issued, and the reserve fund will soon pass the big sum of $1,000,000. The Knights are now on the best basis of any fraternal insurance organization in America.

POLICE VACATIONS.

Lieut. Edward Pulford and Patrolmen Patrick O'Hearn will leave on June 20 on a ten days' trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Joseph, Mich. Patrolmen Mike O'Hare and Thomas Fitzgibbons left today to spend their vacation in Chicago.

SAFE IN IRELAND.

A postal card from Ireland brings the news that William Lynch and wife arrived at Queenstown last week. The Ivernia, on which they sailed, was leaking badly, but Mr.
and Mrs. Lynch were not at all frightened.

WILL ENTERTAIN BOWLERS.

Walter Klarer, of New Albany, will entertain the Queen of Nelson and J. P. Dant bowling clubs next Tuesday evening at his residence.
Klarer is an enthusiastic bowler and is always a prominent figure at the national tournament.

HEARTS UNITED.

Miss Pledy Barbour and Wathen Summer, prominent young people of Fredericktown, were married in that place at Holy Trinity church on Wednesday morning. The rite was performed by the Rev. Joseph Tieters. After a brief honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Summer will reside at Springfield, Ky.

WILL ELECT OFFICERS.

Trinity Council Aid Society will hold its annual election of officers at Trinity Hall next Monday evening at 9 o'clock. The annual report of the officers will be read and other matters of interest will be presented for consideration.

SPAIN GROWS.

In the last forty-five years the population of Spain has increased only 3,000,000.

PIONEER CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.
Georgetown University, our oldest Catholic university, was founded by the Jesuits 122 years ago.

LATEST IN STYLES.

The plain top sleeve in mannish style or the kimono or peasant cut is still a dominant characteristic.

The evening slippers of satin are finished with French buckles of rhinestones, beautifully set in silver.

Much white embroidery on black chiffon or net is seen in the new assortments and plenty of black on black.

Mousseline de sole waists with full silver or gold embroidery are being worn with afternoon suits on cool days.

Sailor collars in numerous variations are fashioned of lace with borders of tussah of a contrasting material.

The peking materials, in which the stripes are broad or narrow, have taken a firm hold on the public fancy.

An idea which is taking everyone's fancy by storm is the summer muff.
It may be made in anything pretty and light.

Octagon mesh veiling in clusters of chenille dots is seen also, also fillet mesh veiling sprinkled with chenille dots.

MOths.

In putting away furs or woolen clothes air and dust thoroughly, then sprinkle plentifully with common table salt. Wrap in newspaper and you will not be troubled with moths. The salt will not injure the finest goods or furs.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

At a recent meeting of the Clare
County Council James F. Killeen was elected Rate Collector.

Mrs. A. J. Fanning, clerk of the Birr Pension Committee, has the distinction of being the only lady in Ireland who holds such a post.

An unusual feature of the poor law elections in Limerick is that lady candidates have been nominated for four wards out of eight.

According to the recent census the population of Navan has been returned at 3,933, being an increase of ninety-four as compared with the previous census.

At Athlone a number of men were returned for trial to Quarter Sessions and bound to the peace on a charge of cattle-driving on the lands of Kilgarvin Glebe.

The appointment to the Magistracy of County Clare was recently announced of Michael J. Gaynor, Postmaster at Burten, and P. J.
Hogan, County Councillor.

According to the recent census returns the population of the munic-pal borough of Kilkenny is 10,550, showing a decrease of fifty-nine as compared with the previous census.

An old and much respected Kilkenny resident passed away in the person of Michael Ryan, High street.
The Kilkenny Corporation adjourned their meeting as a mark of respect to his memory.

The agitation on the Beechwood estate, County Roscommon, the property of Miss Nolan, has come to a peaceful termination, the estate having been handed over to the Congested Districts Board.

While an old lady named Mrs.
Murphy was sitting by the fireside in her home at Eyries, about four miles from Berehaven, she was struck dead by lightning, which shattered the wall of the dwelling house.

Much regret is felt at the death of Patrick Ryan, proprietor of Ryan's Hotel, Limerick Junction.
The deceased, who was very popular with the traveling public, had been for many years a member of the Board of Guardians.

A verdict of "found drowned" was returned at an inquest held in Athlone on the body of Patrick Boland, aged thirty-seven, a farmer, whose body was washed ashore the morning after the recent rainfall which flooded the Shannon.

As a result of her clothing catching fire during the temporary absence of her parents, Mary Hehir, aged six years, the daughter of a farmer living at Renmore, near Galway, sustained burns to which she succumbed a few hours later at the Workhouse Hospital.

Three young men named Thomas Callan, Martin Kelly and John Hogan, all of Ballygrass, parish of Tynagh, were held at Ballyshrule, County Galway, bound to the peace for fourteen months on a charge of illegal assembly "under circumstances to cause terror to Ernest Hardy, of Cranna," and to intimidate him from holding Cranna farm.

The repairing of the historic landmark on Vinegar Hill is being carried out and it is expected that the work of renovation will be soon completed. It is not intended to alter the structural appearance of the tower in any except in the least degree consistent with the proper carrying out of the repairs. The rough top will be solidified with cement and the gash in the wall rebuilt, the whole structure being then pointed with cement.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Rosa L. Zoeller, thirty-three years old, died at the family residence, 1439 South Seventh street, on Monday evening. She is survived by her husband, W. E. Zoeller. The funeral took place from St. Ann's church on Thursday morning and was attended by many sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Winnie Cavanaugh died at the family residence, 24 East Fourteenth street, New Albany, on Wednesday morning. She was forty-one years old and was the wife of Edward Cavanaugh. The deceased was popular in Catholic circles in New Albany. Her funeral took place from Holy Trinity church yesterday morning.

DOMINICAN NUN HOME.

Sister Mary Raymond, formerly known to the world as Miss Anna Hines, passed through Louisville this week en route from Mattoon, Ill., her first mission, to the Dominican mother house at St. Catherine's, near Springfield, Ky. While in the city she spent a few hours with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hines, of South Sixth street.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Casino and Orpheum picture houses, fanned by cool breezes, continue in high favor with pleasure seekers and draw large houses of the best people every afternoon and evening. Both are presenting the latest and best moving pictures presented in Louisville, using only first-run films. For next week some exceptionally fine dramatic and comedy pictures are promised, and also new illustrated songs.

TUNNELS FOR HAMBURG.

At a cost of about $2,500,000 the German city of Hamburg is building twin tunnels under the River Elbe for vehicles and pedestrians.

DELICIOUS WAFFLES.

Three-quarters cups flour, two tablespoons sugar, two and a half teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt. Sift thoroughly together. Into this work two-thirds cup cold cooked rice; use tips of fingers. Add one and one-quarter cups milk, one egg, one tablespoon melted butter.
